PRESS RELEASE

Quarter is a collection of contemporary side tables made by Italian artisans in colored glass. They are part of the collectible design language Quarter that has been developed by the Edizione Limitata's art research team in Milan. They looked at how you can shape an interior with different combinations of colored glass volumes and combining pattern of complementary shapes. Quarter allows you to interpret a space in a dynamic and casual way. What characterizes this language is a set of rotations, in the formal and compositional design. Adding more elements in this set takes shape a playful structure, which is composed and decomposed continuously changing color and size.
