Please consider that solid brass goes through a natural oxidation process that changes the color and sheen of surfaces. Changes can also result from normal use ( manipulation, cleaning, ... ) and are part of the normal life of the object.

For this, you may want to move the mirror using cotton gloves to reduce the signs that can be left out of the hands. If you want to polish the surfaces of brass, you can still use a cotton ball with small quantity of silver cleaner.

Please never use abrasive sponges and any solvents and/or abrasive products as they could damage the surface irreparably.
